OUR ADVERTISERS

There are a lot of fine, big holiday advertisements of the enterprising Ocala merchants running in the Weekly Star and alternating as fast as the pen can write. If you have not already done so, you should read these advertisements carefully. They tell of a world of fine goods of every kind under the sun, from which you can select, and supply your wants. Ocala has never in all of her history sheltered as vast and as fine a stock of holiday goods as she is now doing this December, and there is no need of a single dollar being sent away for any article whatever. Our people should remember it is to their advantage to keep their money at home, so spend it with your home merchant. He is with you always and all the year round bears his heavy expenses. This is the harvest time with many of them, and you should help them. Those having big display advertisements with us, in either our Daily or Weekly editions, are H. B. Masters, the Variety Store, J. A. Pittman & Son, McIver & MacKay, Smith & Roberts of the Ocala Furniture Co., F. P. Gadsden's Bazaar, the Carmichael & Son Co., the Anti-Monopoly Drugstore, A. E. Burnett, Ocala Music Co., Ocala News Co., A. Brown & Bro's, Teapot Grocery, with several others to follow.

OUR HOLIDAY GOODS

The writer has been in Ocala for eleven years and has written the holiday advertisements for our home merchants for each of these years, so in a position to know, and asserts that the merchants (and there were never so many in town) have not carried such big stocks of goods, so varied in their assortment, so beautiful and up-to-date as they now have and offer to the public of Central Florida. Ocala presents more and better advantages to the shopper just now than any market between Jacksonville and Tampa.

The investigation substantiated the facts as previously published in this paper, that the killing, though regrettable, was accidental or unintentional, though, under similar circumstances, the officers would again act as they did.
